Acción Latina & Calle 24 Cultural Arts District organizations are excited to announce the festivities lineup for a new series of installments of Paseo Artístico, the Mission's Free Art community stroll which will take place on the second Saturday of every other month. October 13, 2018 from 11am - 7pm, the free neighborhood celebration will celebrate “Women & Indigenous Resilience” with an eclectic mix of music and entertainment, food and drink, and art in multiple venues along the 24th street corridor in the Mission district.

The October 13th Paseo Artístico will celebrate Indigenous People’s Day with local indigenous artists showcasing in different mediums and genres, as well highlight the creative power and leadership of women in the Mission District community. Paseo Artístico is partnering with Precita Eyes and Balmy Alley Block Party to feature the unveiling of local muralist Lucia Ippolito’s new “Women of the Resistance” mural. Another highlight is a double bill featuring Ballet Folklórico Cuicacalli indigenous themed dance, paired with a sneak preview of The Medea Project’s newest performance “When Did Your Hands Become a Weapon?” directed by Rhodessa Jones. Paseo is also partnering with Plaza 16 Coalition to help ensure more affordable housing opportunities in the Mission.
